

Murata's Basic Policy of Contribution Activities for Society and Community

Murata hopes to continue to be "a company whose presence in local communities is a source of pride and joy to those communities as well as a company that our employees are proud and happy to work for." Through dialogue with a wide range of stakeholders, including local residents, we will actively engage in ongoing social and community contribution activities to achieve our common goals of realizing a sustainable society and developing local communities.

【Basic approach to initiatives】

- Murata is deeply concerned with social issues, and we will use our unique strengths in activities that contribute to society.
- We will fulfill our roles and responsibilities in accordance with the needs and characteristics of each region based on our activities in the region where we operate.
- Emphasizing the participation of employees, we encourage and support each employee to actively engage in contact with society and the local community.
