In the global economic environment for the period under review, while the U.S economy continued to steadily grow due to good employment numbers and domestic consumption, a weakened economy in China and a decline in resource prices influenced the global economic slowdown. In the electronics market, the smartphone market continuously grew despite a weakening of the growth rate. Moreover, improvements in the functions of smartphones contributed to an increased number of electronic components. As a result, the electronic components market showed significant continuous growth. Additionally, increased production of vehicles and advanced electrification contributed to an increase in demand for electronic components.

Under these circumstances, the net sales of Murata Manufacturing Co., Ltd. and subsidiaries (together the "Companies") for the period under review increased by 949,487 million yen, up 22.1% from the same period in 2014. This period marked the highest net sales on record owing to depreciation of the yen, whose average exchange rate against the U.S. dollar rose by 14.82 yen from the same period in 2014.

Operating income was 235,414 million yen, up 46.1%, income before income taxes was 240,023 million yen, up 32.2%, and net income attributable to Murata Corporation was 176,132 million yen, up 34.2% compared to the same period in 2014. The primary factors for the profit increase were the launching of a new high valued product, the increase in capacity utilization, comprehensive cost reductions and depreciation of the yen, while negative factors included price declines and increased fixed costs due to expansion of production capacity.
