Notice Regarding the Completion of the Acquisition of Battery Business from Sony Corporation

Murata Manufacturing Co., Ltd. ("Murata"), as previously announced in the press releases entitled "Notice Regarding Acquisition of Battery Business from Sony Corporation" on October 31, 2016 and "Announcement Regarding the Expected Closing of the Transfer of the Battery Business from Sony to Murata Manufacturing" on July 19, 2017, announce today that the acquisition of battery business ("Business") from Sony Corporation ("Sony") has been completed.

Consequently, Murata acquired 100% of shares of Tohoku Murata Manufacturing Co., Ltd. which was established by Sony in December 9, 2016 and succeeded the Business by the company split which became effective as of today.

Murata will take over the technology and business experience of the battery business which the Sony Group has cultivated and place it as a core business in the energy field, which is a focus market, and will implement actions to achieve our business goals as set out in "Mid-term Direction 2018".

The impact on Murata's consolidated business results in the fiscal year ending in March 2018 is currently being assessed, and will be announced once determined.
